

Masaaki Taniguchi, M.D., Ph.D.

Associate Professor, Department of Neurosurgery, Kobe University
Graduate School of Medicine, Kobe, Japan

Masaaki Taniguchi is Associate Professor at the Department of Neurosurgery of the Kobe University Graduate School of Medicine in Kobe, Japan. He received his medical degree from the Osaka University Medical School in 1991.

His clinical research interest is on the minimally invasive techniques in neurosurgery, and he is now mainly engaged in endoscopic endonasal skull base surgery for pituitary tumors, craniopharyngiomas, meningiomas, chordomas / chondrosarcomas.

He is executive board member of International Society of the Minimally Invasive Neurosurgery (ISMINS) and the Japanese Society for Hypothalamic and Pituitary Tumors, councilor of the Japanese Society for Skull Base Surgery, technical certification system committee member of the Japanese Society for Neuroendoscopy, board member of the Conference on Neurosurgical Techniques and Tools, review board member of the Neurologia medico-chirurgica (official journal of the Japan Neurosurgical Society).

- 1991 M.D., Osaka University Medical School, Suita, Japan
- 1994-1995 Clinical Fellow in Neurosurgery, University of Mainz, Mainz, Germany
(Prof. Axel Perneczky)
- 2000 Ph. D., Osaka University Medical School, Suita, Japan
- 2001 Assistant Professor, Department of Neurosurgery, Osaka University
Medical School, Suita, Japan
- 2003 Chief Doctor, Department of Neurosurgery, Kansai Rousai Hospital,
Amagasaki, Japan
- 2005 Head of the Department of Neurosurgery, Yao Municipal Hospital, Yao,
Japan
- 2008 Assistant Professor, Department of Neurosurgery, Kobe University
Graduate School of Medicine, Kobe, Japan
- 2017 Associate Professor, Department of Neurosurgery, Kobe University
Graduate School of Medicine, Kobe, Japan